

THE GLOBE-REPUBLICAN.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Wm. Wilkinson bought L. Howell's farm, 7 miles south of Howell station.

A. D. Wettick of Gray county will have several hundred bushels of alfalfa seed this season.

The weather has been uncommonly sultry for Western Kansas, but it has been good corn weather, and the maize will make an abundant crop.

It is said that the first frost will kill the "silver craze." We apprehend that the "silver craze" will be in the "sere and yellow" before the leaves fall.

S. L. Kelly has purchased the large store building on the east side of Main st., and will move it to his farm in Hess township, soon.—Ingalls Union.

The mill has been running pretty steady this week, parties from Meade county bringing in several hundred bushels of wheat to be ground.—Ingalls Union.

Geo. W. Reighard has presented the editor with a basket of peaches, grown on his farm, and the fruit is finer than any brought to this market. Mr. Reighard has a fine farm and orchard on the bottom between the city and the Home.

The Secretary of the "Christian workers," at Cimarron, in making a call for a meeting gives "notice that no quarrelling will be allowed." And the Jacksonian announces that there is some talk of organizing a "liar's club" in Cimarron.

Jerry Simpson was nominated for congress by the Pop convention at Larned, and he was also endorsed by the Democrats. It is generally conceded that Jerry is a weak candidate. He has "seen his day," and will again be beaten by Congressman Long.

The painters on the city hall last week ascended the pole on which the fireman's hat is suspended, and painted this ornament high up in the air. Frank Chapman, and his painter, both ascended the pole by means of a small ladder, and executed what is termed a perilous piece of work.

We are surprised at the number of people who treat so lightly their indebtedness to the newspaper. We wonder if they imagine the publisher can afford to send his publication free. And we are still more surprised at Republicans who fail to pay their dues, and thus fail to help the paper to meet its obligations.

C. N. Ridenour has received from his brother in Washington, D. C., who is engaged in the Engraving and Printing department, one of the new one dollar bills lately issued by the government. The bill is a silver certificate and has an entirely different design from ordinary bills. In fact, we believe the appearance of the bill is an improvement over other bills. "History instructing youth" pointing a finger to the constitution of the United States, and the capital in the magnificent distance, is the main part of the vignette. The picture on the bill is an allegory, a woman representing history and a modest youth at her side, diligently and attentively listening.

The Republican Club.

The very enthusiastic Republican county convention of Saturday stimulated the meeting of the Republican club Saturday evening, at the court house. A large number of Republicans were present.

H. Juneau was reelected President of the club; Geo. A. Conrad was elected Vice President, and Capt. E. M. Misner was reelected secretary. Tracy S. Hurd was elected assistant secretary. W. T. Coolidge was elected treasurer. The following committees were appointed: Executive Committee—J. M. Grover, J. M. Burson and J. M. Baker.

Finance Committee—John H. Churchill, Sam Stubbs and L. R. Miller. The club will provide permanent headquarters and will actively engage in the campaign. It is starting out under good auspices and is fully equipped for active and successful duty.

The membership of the club will reach several hundred before the month closes.

Rev Dr. Krum, of Dodge City, filled the pulpit of the Episcopal church in this city last Sunday morning and evening. The Doctor is a man of wide information both secular and religious and his discourse Sunday evening not only enlightened his audience but charmed and delighted them. We look forward with great pleasure to the time when Dr. Krum shall visit us again.—Kinsley Mercury, July 31.

The surprise to Miss Ethel Norvell. Monday evening, was a grand event, and surpassed anything given for a long time by the young people of the city. The occasion was Miss Ethel's 16th birthday. The young people enjoyed themselves at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norvell, in the east part of the city, until a late hour of the evening, and were refreshed with some good things.

R. L. Allen, a farmer living near Ensign, Gray county, met with a painful accident while threshing at Mr. Rickman's farm, on Wednesday of last week. While engaged with the machinery Mr. Allen's left arm was caught in the belt, and was fractured by being twisted in the belt. His arm is bandaged and some time will be required for it to get well. Mr. Allen had his leg broken a few years ago, by a runaway team, while removing the Gray county records, and he was a long time getting well of this misfortune.

One of the remarkable Republican primaries in Ford county was held at Nic Mayrath's home in Fairview township. The primary resolved in favor of the free coinage and distribution of silver. This is the proper course to pursue. The free coinage of silver without "distribution," would not be beneficial to anybody wearing a "crown of thorns" or who was being crucified on a "cross of gold." The primary selected a gold bug Democrat as an alternate delegate to the county convention, and then adjourned to Mr. Mayrath's cellar to cool off and enjoy Mrs. Mayrath's cherry wine, manufactured from home fruit. Mr. Mayrath informs that the woods of Ford county are full of gold bug Democrats, and our private information verifies this statement.

"Hard times" are not due to "a lack of money." Millions of it are lying useless in banks vaults. "Hard times" are not due to "a demonetization of silver." Silver is not demonetized, but is as good as gold, and a medium to pay all debts. "Hard times" are not due to a refusal of the United States to buy 4,500,000 ounces of silver every month, for the United States is now coining about $2,000,000 per month and making silver dollars as fast as there is any demand, and have millions of silver on hand to coin more. The whole trouble is that tinkering statesmen have unsettled the people and unsettled values, and capital has retired to await results.—Inter Ocean.

The Democratic convention at Hutchinson did not swallow the Populist State ticket with good grace. The News says:

The state ticket was received with groans and gnashing of teeth. It was so unpalatable that it was taken down in chunks and not masticated, one office at a time. It was bitter, it was nauseating, but down it went.

The ties of alliance with the Populists will rest lightly on the Democrats this year. They feel that the Populists have given no more than they should have done to secure the electoral ticket for Bryan and that there was no value received for the state ticket. In the retirement of the Australian ballot booth, alone with God and a lead pencil, the Democrats of Kansas will sugar coat that Populist pill with many a Republican vote.

The conspicuous decorations at the Populist state convention at Abilene are a gilded cross with the word "No" written over it, and a crown of thorns surmounted by the same word. This is the first time in the political history of this country that the symbols of the Christian religion have been dragged into a partisan campaign. The smart Aleck boy orator will be wise to put a stop to it before several million voters who are not in the habit of associating the crucifixion and the crown of thorns with the egotistical personality of Bryan become disgusted with his campaign methods and with the crowd he is leading.—Topeka Capital.

The Topeka Capital gives the legislative record of J. W. Leedy, nominated by the Pops for Governor. We extract the closing paragraph:

This incomplete review of Senator Leedy's record gives a tolerably complete basis for estimating his character, judgment and capacity for chief executive of the state. The Populists have not improved on Lewelling in this nomination. They have selected for Governor a man of passionate nature, rattled brained, bitterly prejudiced against our towns and cities and, so far as may be judged from his record, destitute of executive ability.

The death of ex-governor George T. Anthony of Kansas recalls a forcible illustration of which he made use on the stump during the greenback craze in Kansas. "Suppose," said he, "that a person in the audience before me had a ten dollar bill issued by the Roman government at the time of its greatest power and glory. How much would that bill be worth today and who would redeem it? But, if the same party had a Roman eagle coined at that time it would be as good as when Caesar rode at the head of the Roman legions."

Some Good Advice.

Free silver Republicans who have been inclined to look to the Democrats and Populists to remedy the evils brought upon the country by Democratic rule, should read the following from Tom Reed's opening speech at Alfred, Me., and then stop and reflect.

If I were going to give good advice to the people of the whole United States I should take this time to do it. Just now there is a great deal of froth and foam in the air, and some time is really needful to disclose clearly to every eye how much of it is the result of the temporary breeze which stills at nightfall and how little is of that heavy ground swell which shows that great elementary forces are at work. However, suddenly all this rush and stir has set itself into action.

"Two months ago no man of any standing would have risked his reputation as a prophet by hinting the slightest doubt of Republican success. Four years of actual trial of the opposition under guidance of its best and twice trusted leader has left no shadow of question as to public duty.

"Two months have slipped away—hardly time to ripen a strawberry much less a system of finance—and there are those who tell us that all things have changed; that those very men who were being prepared for decent burial had burst the ceremonies of the grave and transfigured by some new arrangements of crowns of thorns and crosses of gold, were to lead us to a new happiness and even repair all the damage they themselves had wrought.

"Now this may be so, but to me it does not seem probable. Human experience in every walk of life teaches us that those who have blundered will blunder again and that the wisest course is not to employ a ship captain who has not yet emerged from his last shipwreck, but the safe sailor who has never lost a ship, a passenger, or a letter, but who has sailed safe through every sea. He may have lost masts and sails and even been rudderless for hours, but if he has every time come safe to shore better have him than all the landmen who are forever shouting what they can do and never dare to tell of what they have done.

"Boasters are worth nothing. Deeds are facts and are forever and ever. Talk dies on the empty air. Better a pound of performance than a shipload of language."

TEXAS replies to Louisiana Populist convention: "Texas provides a full electoral ticket and declares no Watson, then no Bryan."

The Republicans are getting in line in Utah, the Republican state committee recommending the support of McKinley. Bryan's free trade record is distasteful to Utah Republicans.
